

Hank Schwarz

Curriculum Vitae

Education & Publications.

- Harvard University, A.B. Classics Latin – 1964
- UCLA, M.A. Latin-American Studies – 2000
- UCLA, Ph.D. Candidate Brazilian Literature – 2007

1989 – Initial visit to Brazil. Spontaneously introduced his wife as mea uxor to a Rio taxi driver. It didn't work.

1995 – Initial Studies in Portuguese. UCLA Extension

1996 – Georgetown-UNICAMP summer language program, Campinas, BR

1997 – Admitted to Latin-American Studies Program, UCLA; focus on Brazilian Literature and related Latin-American History

1998 – Tinker Research Travel Grant. Archival research in São Paulo and Belo Horizonte as well as Campinas, BR, on Oswald de Andrade.

2000 – 2002 – Independent Scholar

2000 – Participant, BRASA V, Recife BR. Presenter:

“Alma: o primeiro filme completo nas folhas dum romance”

2002 – Mesa Coordenador and Participant, BRASA VI, Atlanta EUA.

Presenter: “The Introduction of Television to Brazil: Expectations and Early Outcomes”

2002 – “Alma: the First Motion Picture in Print” appears as a chapter in:

¡Agítese bien! A New Look at the Hispanic Avant-Gardes. Newark: Juan de la Cuesta Hispanic Monographs, 2002

2003 – Admitted to Ph.D. Brazilian Literature Program, UCLA

2004 – Participant, SIMPÓSIO XXVIII, Symposium on Portuguese Traditions, UCLA, Los Angeles, EUA. Presenter: “Quincas Borba: Mapping the Explicit Moral Philosophy of Machado de Assis”

2005 – Participant, Hawaii International Conference on the Arts and Humanities, Honolulu, EUA. Presenter: “Human Learning Evolutionary Research Description. Evolutionary Memory Effects of Survival Cues in Language Development: A Research Proposal.”

2006 – Participant, MACHL, Columbia, Missouri EUA. Presenter: “If It's Not One Thing It's Another: Aspects of Fate, Inevitability and Social Cognition in the Mexican Corrido”

2007 – “Quincas Borba: Mapping the Explicit Moral Philosophy of Machado de Assis” appears as a chapter in: Traduções Portuguesas / Portuguese Traditions: In Honor of Claude L. Hulet. San José: Portuguese Heritage Publications of California, 2007.

2007 – Participant, Assn. for the Scientific Study of Consciousness (ASSC), 11th Conference, Las Vegas, EUA. Poster: “Transactional Cognition: Building a reliable Post-Chomsky Model for Human Language and Cognition.” Full paper at: <http://eprints.assc.caltech.edu/319/01/trans.COG.121506.pdf>